SUSANNA BROUGHTON
BARONIAL CHRONICLER

Words From Their Excellencies

Greetings unto the populace of the Barony of Atenveldt!

We hope everyone is staying cool this summer and avoiding this heat wave as much as possible!

This year we decided to hold our baronial anniversary during the summer, so we weren't having events every weekend in September, like we did last year. We had a wonderful time at our baronial anniversary event, with the Nobility of Love competition, court with the Queen in attendance, and a feast afterwards by the incomparable Lady Donwenna Dwn! Congratulations to our newest Lords of Love, Master Coradini, and his son m'lord Jean Baptiste!

With the heat wave that has gripped our fair Barony this July, we have not been holding fighter practices, including our July court night and tournament. We hope that we will be able to return to our normal schedule soon. Speaking of tournaments, the Barony of Atenveldt Novice tournaments are coming up soon! In September, we will be holding our Novice Rapier Tournament, open to all rapier fighters who are not Masters of Defense. In October we will be holding our Novice Hardsuit tournament, open to all fighters who are not Knights or Masters at Arms. The central baronies will also be hosting melee nights in the coming months. Keep an eye out for announcements for the next melee night hosted by the Barony of Twin Moons!

If you are interested in a behind-the-scenes view of the Barony, please feel free to join us at the baronial business meeting on the first Thursday of each month (where we hold an in-person meeting along with internet access via Google Meets). If you are interested in helping the barony by volunteering to be a deputy officer, the business meeting is an excellent place to see how the barony runs.

If you know someone who is deserving of a baronial award, please let us know! You can find a list of baronial awards on our baronial website (at Baronial Awards), and can send award recommendations to us at coronet@baronyofatenveldt.org

This summer, the Baroness will be traveling to the 50 year celebration of Pennsic War, while the Baron will be home braving the summer heat in the barony. We hope everyone is enjoying their summer and staying cool!

BARONESS VALDIS SKARPA

Crowdsourced Stardust, because many hands make light work.

Want to be part of the many hands that make Polaris II light work? Here is the form to submit fighting scenarios and projectile targets, declare for competitions like A&S or Bardic, or announce your planned involvement in community-building activities like the Cut & Thrust Meet-up. Friends! Please, please, please do 3 things for me.

Events of the Season

1. help us boost the signal by sharing the event and inviting friends. More information will be up in the coming days, and I want to make sure people are seeing it. This information will also be available on the BGM group and page.
2. Fill out the "Crowdsourced Stardust" form. The theme of the event is crowd-sourcing. This means if the crowd doesn't participate, then we won't have as good of an event.
3. encourage others to participate in the crowdsourcing by filling out the "Crowdsourced Stardust forms."

Looking forward to an amazing event with everyone!!

- There are many open areas suitable for camping, including fully shaded areas under towering cottonwood trees.
- The site has onsite showers
- We are waiting for the site contract to be signed before we do anything with the Cabins. We will inform everyone via FB post once we have the Cabins secured.

Arts and Sciences Collegium

We look forward to offering classes in cooking, embroidery, garb, leatherwork, martial arts, metalwork, music, weaving, etc...and not just a single class for a subject but multiple classes that those who wish to learn may dive deep into their studies.

TEACHERS, WE NEED YOU! Please sign up to teach using this form: <https://forms.gle/evizHo7NuTwvfMJq8>

The sign-up sheets to attend classes will be available, in-person at the start of the event.

We hope to see the hall filled with classes and that every class will be full!! To encourage everyone to help fulfill this dream we offer a challenge. Each person will receive a site token (of course) and a small pouch as they enter the event. For every hour taught and every hour spent in class, participants will receive additional tokens. These tokens may be kept or given away to others as tokens of appreciation or inspiration. At the conclusion of the day, the person with the most tokens will win a prize.

Showcase Display

And what day of Arts and Sciences would be complete without a display?!? For those who wish to display, what they have already learned and created, they MAY:

- Display works-in-progress, completed works, or a combination.
- Provide written documentation or choose not to. The 1-page documentation form currently being used by the kingdom can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/5evkup35>
- Display whatever # of items they choose, but should limit themselves to 3 feet of table space.

The wars of summer are over, and our stout army has returned home with tales of glory, songs of triumph, and treasures galore! We must, however, stay vigilant and prepare for the wars to come, and to defend our borders and our allies as the cooler weather tempts those who would see Atenveldt defeated. As iron sharpens iron, so one person must sharpen another. Training is paramount and every opportunity should be taken to keep honing the skills of battle.

Their Excellencies of The Barony March of Mons Tonitrus and The Barony of Tir Ysgithir invite one and all to come join us for Melee Camp! Bear witness as the two southernmost baronies come together to host an amazing weekend filled with activities that will hone battlefield skills as well as personal combat prowess with Battle Scenarios, Minute Clinics, Archery and Thrown Weapons, Youth fighting, and Equestrian Activities. Additionally, there will be a host of A&C classes for those who wish to hone other skills or learn new ones. There will also be Youth Activities to both entertain and teach the next generation of Atenveldt.

The evenings will be filled with revelry and camaraderie with a Hafla and a Potluck Block Party. Finally, there will be merchants to tempt you with goods, both exotic and familiar, that will serve to enhance your medieval life.

Join us as we prepare for the wars to come while enjoying companionship and revelry in the beautiful lands of southern Atenveldt. We look forward to your attendance!

Barony of Atenveldt Champions - (BOA)

Lords, Ladies, and Nobles of every standing! Come one, come all to the Barony of Atenveldt's Champions Tournaments! With another year gone, it is time for new Champions to be born (or perhaps old Champions to be born anew) by their Excellencies' hands. This will be done at Hollis Park, November 4th.

Events of the Season

Have you the mettle to become the best? Send your letter of intent to compete to Baron and Baroness, Nikolaus and Valdis, before November 4th. Letters of intent may be sent to coronet@baronyofatenveldt.org for their review.

Hard Suit Fighting will be run by Lord Charles the Bear on 11/4, at Hollis Park, time TBD.

Rapier Fighting will be run by Lady Siraj Farhadzedah on 11/4, at Hollis Park, time TBD.

The Bardic Competition will be run by Noble Khulan Uligerchin on 11/4, at Hollis Park, in the afternoon.

The A&S Competition will be run by Lady Soenaid Inghean Ui Mordha on 11/4, at Hollis Park, time TBD.

The Archery Competition will be run by Master Jean Andre Boeye on 10/29, at El Oso Park, at morning practice. Garb is highly recommended.

The Thrown Weapons Competition will be run by M'lord Hamish the Hunter, details TBD

All people competing for champion should:

- Declare their intent to claim the champions title by sending in a letter of intent to Baron and Baroness, Nikolaus and Valdis before October 29th. Your letters can be sent to coronet@baronyofatenveldt.org for their review.
- Be prepared to help plan, organize, and host the next Baronial Champions event.
- Enjoy the grand show that is Court and have a desire to make it more fun for everyone.
- It is highly suggested champions be a paid member of the Society, but this is not required.

All the Barony of Atenveldt Champions are expected to:

- Stand court at Baronial events (such as the Spring Event, Anniversary, or Yule), as well as end-of-the-month baronial courts. If the champion is attending an event where the Baron and Baroness are in attendance, be prepared to stand with them during court.
- Boldly and often wear the colors and regalia of the position, attend Their Excellencies whenever possible, and meet challenges as needed.
- Promote the activity for which they are champion (archery, bardic, hard suit, rapier, thrown weapons) within the Barony of Atenveldt by encouraging and inspiring those interested to participate in competitions, classes, and other events.
- Enter at least one tournament outside of the borders of the Barony as the representative of the Barony of Atenveldt. This may be at the Kingdom or Baronial level.
- Assist with any tournaments Their Excellencies wish to have at a Wednesday night fighter practice or at events (examples include the Novice Tournament or a quarterly tournament).

Events of the Season

Populace of Atenveldt!

As the sun begins to shine bright this season, prepare to attend Fall Coronation 2023! Here in the Gem of Atenveldt, Tir Ysgthir will be hosting an Outdoor Coronation at John F. Kennedy Memorial Park on November 11th, followed by the Champions Tournament at the same location on November 12th! Let us rejoice as the next coming Royalty takes the stage with light of the sovereign Sun, without the sweltering heat! Nearby Amenities: While there are a wide variety of hotels a short drive away from our event, I am delighted to announce that we have a room block with the Country Inn and Suites right off of I-10, approximately 10 minutes away from the site! There are also numerous food establishments such as Jack in the Box, McDonald's, a Food City grocery store, and other food establishments right across the street from the park.

Event/Site Information: This is a 2-Day Outdoor Event at John F. Kennedy Memorial Park

- 3700 S. Mission Road, Tucson, AZ, 85713
- Site is open both days at 0700-1900 (7pm)

You will need to bring your own chairs to this event! STAKING IS NOT ALLOWED. Please plan accordingly for shade. The site is wet, but please refrain from bringing glass bottles as they are not allowed on site. Pets MUST be leashed for this entire event.

Saturday, November 11th: Rejoice good people! Set up your chairs and celebrate the accomplishments of our King and Queen as their reign comes to an end. With our unity, we will welcome our new Crown with a coronation full of stardust!

Sunday, November 12th: Do you have what it takes to become a champion for the next coming Royalty? Come show your skill and valor for the title of Their Royal Majesties' Champion! Bring your swords, your bows, and your axes for a day of friendly competition; or show support for your fellow populace and Majesties as the beautiful chaos unfolds!

Directions: Approaching from Phoenix and Northern Cities; Take I-10 East to West Ajo Way (Exit 99), follow Ajo Way to South LaCholla Blvd, turn Right on S. La Cholla, then turn left into the Fiesta Area parking lot.

You agree to take any additional steps to protect your own health and safety and those under control as you believe to be necessary.

Cooking with the Baron

Bagna Cauda by Baron Nikolaus

A few years ago I stopped for lunch at the Flagstaff Brewing Company where they had this amazing garlic appetizer called Bagna Cauda. They would use a small cast iron skillet, fill it with hot olive oil, toss in a handful of frozen garlic, and would walk the hot skillet to your table, sizzling and crackling, and gathering the attention of everyone in the bar and restaurant. By the time the sizzling stopped, the garlic was ready to be spread on bread.

The origins of this dish can be traced to medieval Italy where it was a peasant dish meant to be served warm as a dipping sauce for vegetables, made from anchovies, garlic and olive oil. Bagna cauda itself is a variation on a French dish known as an Anchioade, a dish made from anchovies, garlic, and oil, served cold and used as a spread for bread.

You may ask why anchovies are central to both of these recipes, and interestingly enough it is due to salt. As you may know, salt was a precious commodity in the middle ages, heavily taxed, and not everyone could afford salt on their table. Enterprising merchants would pack salt under layers of anchovies to avoid the salt tax. One of the interesting things about anchovies is its ability to melt into a sauce with proper preparation. Because of the saltiness of anchovies, garlic is a great addition to the dish due to its pungent flavors.

My version of bagna cauda can be served warm or cold, can be served as a dipping sauce or spread on bread, and is very easy to make. This dish uses a lot of garlic. Seriously, you would not believe how much garlic you need to make for this dish. For this recipe you should get approximately two cups of bagna cauda, though your friends may ask why you didn't make more.

Ingredients:

- Garlic – At least 10 heads of garlic
- Anchovies – 10 ounces
- Olive Oil – 1 cup
- Optional – 1/4 cup butter if you like a creamier spread

Cooking with the Baron

- Step One – The garlic.

You will need at least 10 heads of fresh garlic. When I make this, I found that one package of garlic heads from Costco works well. You will need to peel all of the garlic cloves. Use whichever method you like to peel, including smashing the garlic, it is going to get pureed later, so you do not need to keep the garlic cloves whole.

You can also purchase pre-peeled garlic, though the pre-peeled garlic loses some of its flavor. If you purchase the pre-peeled garlic from your local grocery store, you will need five to seven packages (each package should have 4 or 5 smaller packets of garlic).

Once the garlic is peeled, place the garlic in a pot or large skillet and add olive oil. You want enough oil to coat the garlic, about 1 cup of oil. Place the stove on medium-low heat and let simmer for about an hour. The goal is to have fully cooked garlic that is soft to the touch, browned but not burnt.

- Step Two – The Anchovies.

Traditionally this dish calls for anchovies for that salty flavor. When I have made this in the past, I have taken it easy on the anchovies and most people cannot tell that there are any anchovies in the dish.

Anchovies packed in oil usually have been washed of salt and deboned, while anchovies packed in salt will need to be cleaned of salt and deboned. I recommend getting the anchovies packed in oil. You will need at least 10 ounces of anchovies

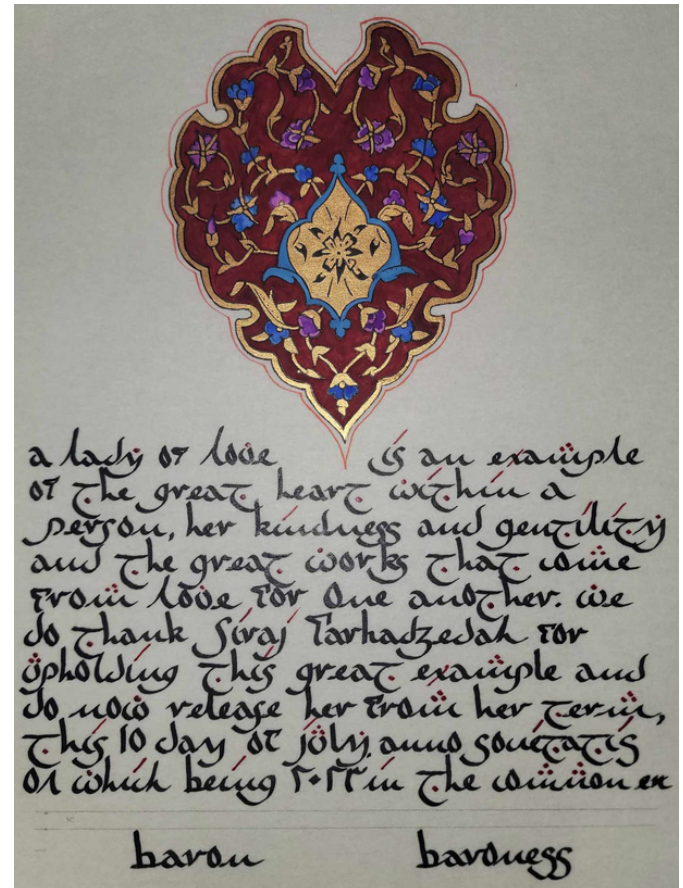

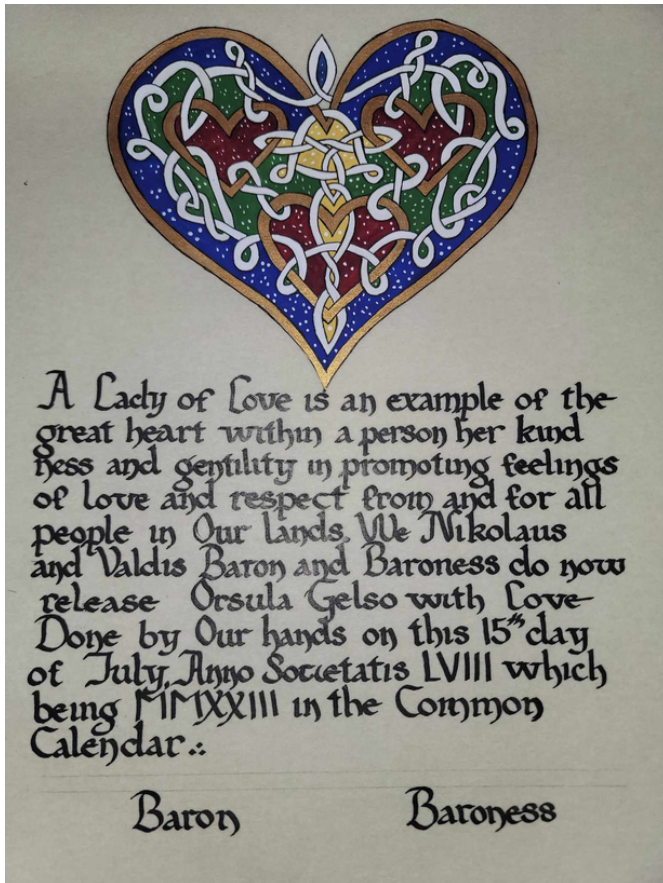

If you have an aversion to anchovies or fish, you can substitute capers for anchovies.

- Step Three – Making the bagna cauda.

In a food processor, combine the cooked garlic, olive oil, and anchovies. Pulse/chop the mixture until it is pureed into a chunky paste. If you want a creamier spread, use, add butter sliced into pieces, and puree until smooth.

Pour into your favorite bowl or serving dish and serve warm with bread and vegetables. Enjoy!

Nobilitatis, honorem, et gaudium vite

The Baronial Motto is “Nobilitatis, honorem, et gaudium vite”. The direct translation is “Nobility, honor, and Joy of Life” To Us, The Dream, Game, or Society is all about the magic. The main components of that magic are being noble, living and acting with honor, and last, but most definately not least, fun. Since the Romans did not have a direct transation of the word “fun”, “the joy of life” seemed to fit well.
