LADY ALICE OF CLAN
RICHARDSON
BARONIAL CHRONICLER

Words From Their Excellencies

Dearest Atenveldt, We have had a delightful summer despite the unrelenting heat. After Bey Ra'id returned home from the Pennsic War, he joined Baroness Morgaine to travel the Kingdom and witness a number of joyous events. We traveled North to see Our Favorite Cousins, Baron Nilstr and Baroness Margre celebrated as they retired from the thrones of Ered Sul, and the investiture of our New Favorite Cousins, Adam and Jenna. Immediately we traveled South, to the mountains of thunder. More favorite cousins, Baron Nathan and Baroness Swetiua of the Barony March of Mons Tonitris, reaching the end of their tenure, stepped down with much love and gratitude both from and to the populace, followed with the investiture of yet more New Favorite Cousins, Daniel and Kettra.

We were also excited to witness history as the newest Shire of Vallis Aeris was granted full status with much pomp, circumstance and love. It was a grand day indeed! No sooner had we stepped back into our land, were we called away for one last celebration. North again and a bit west, to the verdant valleys of The Barony of Granite Mountain. Our Favorite Cousins, Baron Wade and Baroness Ros finished their tenure with laughter and tears, for they so loved serving their populace in this way. We hugged them tight and wished them well, knowing that we were gaining yet one last set of Favorite Cousins that day. Indeed, Rustand and Beth were invested as the newest Baron and Baroness of Granite Mountain. We are delighted and excited to embrace each new couple who have taken on this daunting but amazing role as the Baronage of this Kingdom, leading each barony in treasured traditions and into new adventures.

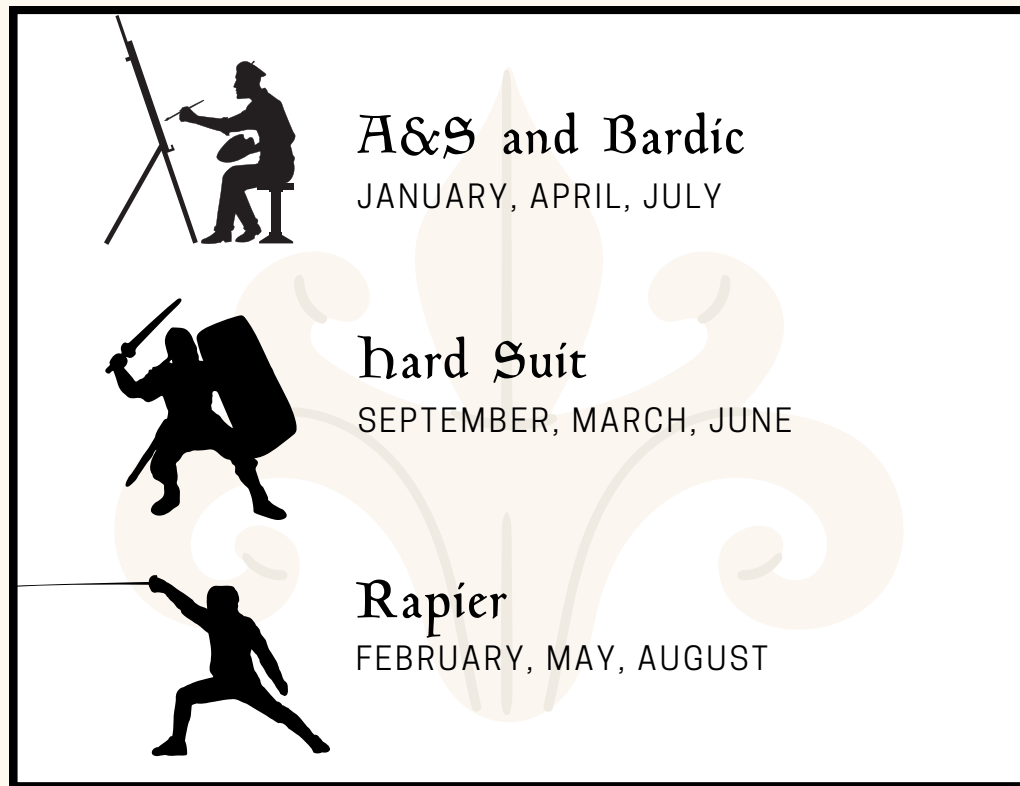

In this whirlwind of Our progress, we also witnessed several well deserved elevations to peerage, a marriage proposal, and some very well dressed hounds! Finally we return home to celebrate Our own beloved barony on its 56th anniversary. We hope you will all join us on Saturday September 13, and perhaps meet some of our Newest Favorite Cousins who may come to partake of Our Hospitality. We look forward to the next Nobility of Love competition winners to see who may be spreading love of all kinds throughout the Barony and the kingdom!

Look within these pages for more details, and please join us. After we celebrate Our Anniversary, we hurry back north to Ered Sul to witness the greatest contest of all, Crown Tournament. Once Atenveldt has secured heirs to the Solar Throne, we can return home to spend October finding new champions to represent Us in the coming year. It has been a busy time, but We couldn't be happier than to spend it with Our Populace and Our Cousins, new and newly retired.

We Remain In Service,
Bey Ra'id and Baroness Morgaine
18th Coronet of the Barony of Atenveldt

What Even is Pennsic Anyway?

By Alice of Clan Richardson

Every July and August, in the quiet hills of western Pennsylvania, something extraordinary happens. For two weeks, fields near the town of Slippery Rock are transformed into a medieval city of tents, banners, and thousands of people dressed in garb from any period you can imagine. It's called Pennsic War, and if you've never been, you're missing out on one of the most immersive cultural experiences in the world.

Pennsic began back in 1972 as a friendly mock battle between two regional groups of the SCA. A few hundred people showed up that first year, eager to don armor, test their skills, and relive history. Today, the event has exploded into a gathering of more than 10,000 participants from across the globe every year, making it the largest SCA event in the world.

But Pennsic is so much more than a war. By day, armored fighters, rapier fencers, and combat archers clash in massive battles with hundreds on the field. If combat isn't your calling, you can explore nearly a thousand classes taught by experts on everything from blacksmithing to medieval dance, brewing, costuming, music, calligraphy, and even historic cooking techniques. Wander through the site and you'll find the largest medieval marketplace in the world, with merchants selling hand-forged blades, silks, jewelry, instruments, and goods you won't see anywhere else.

Pennsic is split into two distinct halves: Peace Week and War Week. During Peace Week, the atmosphere is relaxed and social. Camps are built, friends reconnect, and participants dive into classes, shopping, and leisurely gatherings around the fire. It's the time to learn, explore, connect, and soak in the festival's creative energy. But once War Week arrives, the tempo shifts. The battlefield comes alive with grand melees, tournaments, and combat on a scale that's breathtaking to watch, while courts, pageantry, parties, and bardic circles fill the evenings. Together, the two weeks create a rhythm that balances reflection and festivity with action and spectacle.

By night, the city glows with torchlight. Camps host feasts and bardic circles, fire dancers perform, and the sounds of drums, lutes, and laughter echo through the valley. It's part historical reenactment, part cultural festival, and part family reunion for people who love to learn, create, and celebrate together.

What makes Pennsic irresistible is the sense of belonging. Whether you're a history buff, an artist, a musician, a fighter, or simply love the SCA, there's a place for you. For two weeks, you are greeted by strangers with a heartfelt "Welcome Home" and after a while, you start to understand. Pennsic is home, one you can return to every year.

Next July, when Pennsic rises again, you'll want to be there. Join the Aten Pennsic Facebook group to learn more about how our Kingdom travels, how we pack, and how we make the event as accessible and affordable as we can. Reach out to me (I'm Alyssa Witte on Facebook) and I'll personally give you your own presentation about the event, whether you wish to attend for one or two weeks. I can't wait for you all to join us at a future Pennsic. Home is calling.

Nobilitatis, honorem, et gaudium vite

The Baronial Motto is "Nobilitatis, honorem, et gaudium vite". The direct translation is "Nobility, honor, and Joy of Life" To Us, The Dream, Game, or Society is all about the magic. The main components of that magic are being noble, living and acting with honor, and last, but most definately not least, fun. Since the Romans did not have a direct translation of the word "fun", "the joy of life" fits well.
