Otherwordly Knight by m'Lord Langdon Kennedy (Date February 9, 2015)

Sir Eyut rode his tentacled yoc-yoc through the lands as it spout ink across fields, mountains and whatever terrain he passed. Whether stopping bandits or saving damsels from fire-breathing, slime covered horkoks his bravery never wavered. His armor clanged while hiding the wounds on purple skin. But he didn't care.

While Sir Eyut went traveled another knight moved the lands on his world. Sir Thames rode his horse, stopped bandits, saved damsels from dragons and his bravery never wavered. His armor clanged as well, hiding just as brutal wounds on his skin.

They both didn't care as they both fought for the same reason, the glory of adventure.

From an Autocrat

I feel very honored to have been giving the opportunity to autocrat Fabric War this year along with Lord Jakob Inn Rammi. Having planned and run youth corners in the past and helped out with Mixed Weapons this past year, I knew that there was much to do in order to get ready for Fabric War. It ended up being a lot more work than I had thought but it was well worth it. I am very proud in myself for the work that I put into this event and the success of it has greatly helped with my self-confidence. But I didn't do it all alone.

Thank you Lord Jakob for being an awesome autocrat buddy and for all the hard work you did. Thank you Baroness Gwenfrewi and Baron Simon for being patient and understanding as I learned the ropes of autocrating. Thank you Lady Ceridwen for hosting a wonderful cookie competition and for keeping an eye on the bake sale, along with Lady Gwen Eleri. To those who participated in the largess derby, bake sale and brought their fabric to share, thank you. This has been a highlight in the short time that I have been part of this amazing society, thank you to all who came and enjoyed them selves.

Yours in service of the glorious dream, Barony and Kingdom,
Lady Mattea Locatelli

Kingdom of Atenveldt

As Corpora is the primary guide to all SCA rules and procedures and the sanction guide is subordinate to the Seneschals Handbook in terms of precedence, a change to Corpora is being considered by the Board of Directors, i.e. deleting references to the Sanction Guide in Corpora. This change clearly reasserts that Corpora is the primary guide to SCA rules and procedures, reduces confusion and eliminates any appearance that Corpora is subordinate to the Sanction guide.

In order to facilitate this change, the Board is presenting a proposal to the membership for commentary for removal of the following portions of Corpora dealing with references to the Sanction Guide:

Chapter I, Section F, subsection 4

Chapter X, Section C, subsections 1(b), 2(b) and 3(b).

For ease of reference a copy of the Governing Documents (Corpora) can be found here:

<http://sca.org/docs/pdf/govdocs.pdf>

Commentary can be sent to comments@sca.org . Please place the term Sanction Guide – Corpora Changes in the subject line. The deadline for commentary is October 1, 2016.

Comments are strongly encouraged and can be sent to:

Box 360789
